I have been a subscriber to XM radio since March. As a traveling man, XM provides me with traffic and weather information that is Accurate and constant. No local radio stations provide this important information on a constant basis. One has to run up and down the dial to find a station that gives this information and then it is only a 10 second segment.

It is important to me to get quick information in order to make a quick decision as to a possible alternate route if a traffic problem exist in front of me.

I really feel XM radio is a necessity for my travel needs. Please let them expand their list of cities offering this service.
